

Disclosure Statement

I confirm that I have no conflicts of interests, financial or otherwise, related to the submitted manuscript Are Solar Panels Commodities? Evidence of Quality Differences and Asymmetric Information from California. I have not received any direct or indirect financial support for this research other than that granted as part of my full-time position at my institution, BI Norwegian Business School. The data source is openly available online, which I provide links to in the manuscript. I am also happy to provide a cleaned and merged version upon request.
